From and to the Hotel:

Taxis are rather cheap and it would be the recommended way for tourists to move between Valparaiso and Vina del Mar.

ABOUT THE AREA:

Valparaiso is unforgettable for its colorful hills, narrow streets, beautiful houses and friendly people. The city has been declared World Heritage in 2003 by the UNESCO, in recognition of the historic quarter of the seaport, the typical architecture and the elevators scattered around the city that provide access to the steep hills.

Next to it is Viña del Mar, a nice seaside city, rather more residential and commercial. See www.turismochile.com/guia/valparaiso\_y\_vina\_del\_mar/ (English version available!)
